City War Memorial work order issued

To come up at five-acre Public Park (old Parade Ground) adjacent to DC's Office

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, May 8- Twenty-two years after land was reserved for the construction of a grand War Memorial for Mysuru, the work order for the Memorial has been issued. The work order was issued on 25.04.2022 by the Public Works Department (PWD) and the estimated cost is Rs. 1.41 crore.

The work deadline has been set for 24.08.2022 and the Memorial will come up at the five-acre Public Park (previously a Parade Ground) adjacent to the Deputy Commissioner's (DC) Office which is right in front of NCC Group Headquarters. The Memorial will come up at a plot measuring 40×40 feet inside the erstwhile Parade Ground.

High-quality jet black granite stones have already come to the project site from Chamarajanagar and the Kannada and Culture Department has released Rs. 50 lakh as first instalment. The Bhoomi Puja for the project will be performed by Mysuru District Minister S.T. Somashekar soon after he returned from his foreign trip, sources told Star of Mysore this morning.

The War Memorial will have a total height of 43 feet and will have a 5-ft Saranath Ashoka Emblem on all four sides.

Exquisitely carved ivory trophy seized

Madikeri, May 8 (PS&BCT)- An exquisitely carved ivory trophy with a face of a woman wearing beads and a headgear has been seized in Madikeri last evening and two persons have been arrested. They were trying to sell the ivory on the Mysuru-Madikeri Highway.

Acting on a tip-off, the Criminal Investigation Department (CID) Forest Cell raided a location on the Highway near a burial ground at Chain Gate Madikeri and made the arrest. The arrested have been identified as Rafiq Ahmed Khan and Fazil Khan.

The accused was looking for prospective buyers for the trophy and were moving in a suspicious manner with a bag containing the carved piece. The exact weight, length and the value of the piece in the international market have not been revealed yet and the accused are being interrogated about the source of the elephant tusk and the craftsmen who carved the ivory.

Mysuru Railway Station expansion

350 staff quarters likely to clear way

Mysuru, May 8 (RK&BCT)- With the ambitious Naganahalli Satellite Terminal — at an estimated capital expenditure of Rs. 789 crore — becoming a quagmire over land acquisition and budgetary constraints, the South Western Railway (SWR) is looking at expanding the congested Mysuru City Railway Station and there is a proposal to utilise the space at present occupied by staff quarters.

These staff quarters have been built on the land owned by the Railways and if the proposal is accepted by the Railway Board, over 350 staff quarters beginning near the CFTRI Gate railway station entrance from Vani Vilas Water Works on KRS Road till the A. Ramanna Circle (Railway Colony) will be demolished. Before that, the 350 families that are presently living there will have to be relocated.

The Mysuru City Railway Station handles over 45 trains (to and fro) daily with over one lakh passengers and the vicinity is the busiest all the time with arrivals and departures from various sections including Bengaluru, Hassan-Sakleshpur, Nanjangud and Chamarajanagar. There are many outstation trains that reach destinations beyond Karnataka. In addition, goods wagons too pass through.

The expansion will enable the SWR to augment operations to and fro Mysuru that is at present handled by the City Railway Station and the Ashokapuram Railway Station. It will facilitate the introduction and operations of more trains and moreover it will provide the much needed space.

Expansion only in western side: The eastern part of the Station has no scope for expansion as there is the Station main building that is a heritage structure housing the offices of high-level officers and various other critical sections. Plus the parking lot is located on this side.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Some days back, when my son secured a merit super-specialisation seat in a reputed medical institution, I was swamped by sudden desire to see the Lord of splendid Tirupati Hill shrine, despite sundry misgivings surging within. The glitch was we couldn't get any darshan tickets for the next several days, including special seva ones. Still, feeling super sanguine, we started off on the following Thursday at 4 am. Soon as we set foot on Tirupati soils, we headed straight towards the serpentine queue, setting sights on Sarvadarshan entry. Which was after two days, at 8 pm! Now, instead of drowning in despair, we decided to do some exciting things, in those two days of unexpected relaxed time, rarely got!

Yes, leisurely we traipsed around the temple of Goddess Padmavati, savoured the scrumptious laddoos; the next day, clambered the 3,550 steps by foot (later climbed down, too) sprinkled the sacred Pushkarni water on our heads, circumambulated along the squarish outer periphery of three splendiferous Gopuras, had a great view of Lord Varaha's grand idol. Not to discount, the darshan of Lord Balaji, amidst throngs of people, pushing, punching, pummelling each other!

After which, though the body was all whacked out, the mind wallowed in walloping peace! Incidentally, I did learn a few scintillating lessons during this spiritual journey. One, when we have striven hard for some success, the taste of such success is truly sweet, and we totally realise its value. This aspect I realised on beholding the Lord after the four-plus-hour long wait.

And, the success is even sweeter, when we adopt sincere means to achieve it. This I saw standing in the snaky Sarvadarshan queue, stringing along with several hundred, seeking darshan, sans any special privileges.

Next, life keeps springing small joys, now and then. It is up to us to recognise them and maximise it. Finally, if God wills, mountains can move. Else, even a grass blade can't shake. The great opportunity to see the Lord, sans prior ticket booking, especially on an auspicious Saturday, is indeed a proof in itself!

Woman goes skydiving on 100th birthday

Florida: A Florida woman celebrated her 100th birthday by trying something new — jumping out of a plane.

Raymonde Sullivan, who served on the front lines as a nurse in World War II, took to the skies recently at Skydive Sebastian and went tandem skydiving for the first time to celebrate her 100th birthday.

"I had never done it, and I've done a lot of things in 100 years so I thought I must do it while I can," Sullivan told WPTV. "It's scary, I would say it is."

Sullivan said she decided her first time skydiving would also be her last. Once back on the ground, Sullivan celebrated her birthday with friends and family at The Castle in Fort Pierce.

Replica of 'Starry Night' breaks records

Vietnam : A Massachusetts based greeting card company broke two Guinness World Records with the creation of a quilling paper replica of Vincent Van Gogh's Starry Night measuring 287.77 square feet. Quilling Card, a Framingham-based company specialising in greeting cards made with quilling, earned the Guinness World Record for largest quilling paper mosaic (image) with the Starry Night replica measuring 19.09 feet tall and 19.07 feet wide.

Quilling is the process of creating images using rolled, shaped and glued strips of paper. The record attempt was planned at the company's headquarters in Framingham and completed in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam. The project earned the Record for most people quilling simultaneously when 300 people gathered to work on the mosaic in Vietnam. The Starry Night replica is composed of 191,948 strips of paper in 18 colors. Quilling Card said the strips of paper would stretch for 40 miles if they were arranged end-to-end.

REALLY...?

- The invention of skydiving had many contributors. In 1485, Leonardo da Vinci sketched the first design for a pyramidal cloth parachute. Later in 1797, the first successful parachute jump was made from a hydrogen balloon by André-Jacques Garnerin. As far as the first true skydive is concerned, there are two people credited with "inventing" skydiving and making the first jump from a powered aircraft: Captain Albert Berry and Grant Morton.

Traffic offences galore in Vijayanagar Railway Layout

Sir,

The Vijayanagar Railway Layout (Surya bakery) road has been a hotspot for traffic offences. The residents have been, on a daily basis, witnessing reckless driving by teenagers who are not only endangering their lives, but are putting other's life in danger too.

Very recently an elderly gentleman was knocked off by an unidentified two-wheeler at about 11 in the morning who later succumbed to his injuries.

In another incident, one early morning at about 5.30 am, the residents woke up to the booming sound of a racing bike which went at more than 250 kmph in this residential area!

The irony is, CCTVs are unable to capture the footage clearly, and appears nothing less than a bullet shot, given the speed.

Being a residential layout, with the majority retired people living in this area, I urge the authorities concerned to take the matter seriously and take steps to prevent loss of innocent lives and alleviate our fear.

UoM to fill up vacant teaching faculty posts

Mysuru, May 8 (RK&DM)- In a fillip to its academic excellence and to achieve academic goals, the University of Mysore (UoM) has decided to fill up vacant teaching posts in the University after getting approval from the Government.

The UoM Evaluation Centre Council meeting which was chaired by Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar at Crawford Hall here on Friday, observed that teaching and research quality is on a decline due to paucity of teaching faculty.

The meeting, after deliberating on the issue, decided to immediately fill up teaching faculty vacancies.

Pointing out that the teaching faculty appointment has not been done for years, the Council members observed that it is not correct to conduct academic activities only with the help of Guest Lecturers. Noting that though the number of students is increasing by the year and the number of teachers has not increased correspondingly, the members wanted the University to make appointments keeping in mind the student-teacher ratio.

Observing that the establishment of a career hub has been of great help in carrying forward the objectives of National Education Policy-2020, the members wanted that research activities be increased in association with supporting institutions.

Nominated Council members Dr. K. Mahadev, Prof. M.K. Surappa and Dr. D. Sudhanva, Deans and senior faculty of various Departments attended the meeting.

Mysuru, May 8 (SBD&BCT)- With the State Government deciding to shift the Centre of Excellence for Studies in Classical Kannada (CESCK) to the spacious and artistic Jayalakshmi Vilas Palace, Minister for Kannada and Culture V. Sunil Kumar visited the iconic structure last evening. The CESCK functions from its current location at National Centre for History of Science (NCHS) of University of Mysore (UoM), which is housed in the old Tahsildar office building in Manasagangothri campus opposite Premier Studio (now demolished) on Hunsur Road.

He said that though CESCK was established in 2015, there was no arrangement for a permanent building for the institute to operate. With the CESCK being shifted to Jayalakshmi Vilas Mansion now, a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) will be signed with University of Mysore.

An action plan to repair and restore Jayalakshmi Vilas Mansion with an estimated cost of Rs. 27 crore is being prepared and he would speak to the Chief Minister for fund release soon. Even the Union Minister for Education Dharmendra Pradhan has responded positively to improve the functionality of CESCK, he added.

The State Govt. has drawn elaborate plans to accord importance to Kannada language and culture and would strive to enrich them. The Classical Kannada Centre will play an important role in this direction and all efforts will be made to allow the institution to function in a fruitful manner, Sunil Kumar added.

Focus on overall repairs

Sharathchandra of Deccan Heritage Foundation that is carrying out the restoration of Jayalakshmi Vilas Palace as per the directive of the University of Mysore said that as the Classical Kannada Centre will be shifted to this venue, comprehensive repairs to the Mansion are required.

Basappa, Director Jaishankar, Treasurer K.S. Achaiah, Vice-President K.U. Bhimaiah, Directors K.S. Prabhakar and Chitra Subbaiah.

Mysuru, May 8 (PM&DM)- Asserting that ex-servicemen must get all facilities extended by the Government, JD(S) MLC C.N. Manjegowda, who himself is an ex-serviceman, said that he was committed to get all due Government benefits to ex-servicemen.

He was speaking at the 4th anniversary and get-together of Kodagu Ex-servicemen Welfare Association organised at Sri Chamundeshwari Convention Hall on Bannur Road here yesterday.

Maintaining that he is fighting for the cause of ex-servicemen, Manjegowda said he had questioned the Government on the facilities extended to the family members of martyred Pulwama attack soldiers. Manjegowda said he likes to be remembered as an ex-serviceman and a honest politician who always worked for the cause of the general public.

Asking ex-servicemen to contact him any time for getting work done by any department, the MLC contended that the JD(S) was the only party that gave a party ticket to an ex-serviceman to contest the Legislative Council polls.

'I have apprised the Chief Minister and the Home Minister on the services rendered by ex-servicemen. I will always be in touch with the Government to discuss issues concerning ex-servicemen", he said.

Pointing out that Kodagu district has given many soldiers and warriors to the country, Manjegowda said that the nation should be indebted to Kodagu for this and also the sacrifices made by brave and valiant soldiers.

Noting that the Army and the Police are two pillars of the society, he urged the Government to distribute P-caps to the Police personnel just as is done in other South Indian States. Observing that most of the people who join the Armed Forces do not have a sound financial background, he said that after retiring from the Army, he joined the Police force and served in other departments later before quitting Government service.

Pointing out that those who had served in the Army want to be in a place where there is discipline and dedication, Manjegowda explained his political journey. Referring to allotment of Government land for ex-servicemen, the MLC bemoaned that ex-servicemen are being made to wait for years while private organisations are getting land much easier and quickly.

He announced that he would exert pressure on the Government to clear pending land allotment applications of ex-servicemen. Manjegowda presented Rs. 50,000 cheque to the Welfare Association, during which he announced that he would give Rs. 10 lakh out of his Legislator's fund for the construction of the Association building.

The MLC also promised that he would make all efforts to get a CA site for the Association if the audit report and all records are straight.

Senior ex-serviceman K.G. Kuttappa and Association members K.B. Aiyappa and A.C. Subbaiah, who excelled in sports, were felicitated.

Association President K.K. Aiyappa, Vice-President K.U. Bheemaiah, office-bearers A.P. Motaiah, C.K. Basappa, K.S. Achaiah, N.K. Ganapathi, A.P. Appaji, K.S. Prabhakar, P.K. Bopaiah, Jaishankar, A.S. Lokanath, Chitra Subbaiah, K.A. Geetha and others were present.

Shubha Sanjay Urs with her son Aeshanrudra Urs.

By Nandini Srinivasan

Star of Mysore (SOM): Tell us about your journey from entrepreneur to Book Club Founder.

Shubha Sanjay Urs: I loved books, being born in a family of book-lovers. My father and grandfather had a collection of books and there was always one conversation or the other around books. My grandfather D. Jayadeva Urs, who was an MLA from Hinkal (Chamundeshwari Constituency), introduced us to Ramayana and Mahabharata. Though my father travelled on work, he made it a point to read aloud to us. That was how our journey with books began.

When my grand uncle D.V. Urs was the Vice-Chancellor of Mysore University, my great grandmother stayed with him. As a result, we children spent a lot of time there. As a child, I was in awe of the huge collection of books in his house and would often go to the library and stare at those huge volumes. I was curious to know what was inside the pages and the smell of books was addictive.

SOM: How did you get the idea of starting a Book Club?

Shubha: I left Mysore for my Master's; then got married, so stayed outside. I was elated to relocate to Mysuru with my eight-month-old son for business reasons. Here, I researched social activities and I did find a lot of cultural activities. I realised that nothing much was happening in the literary arena. I opened a Book Club on June 4, 2015.

SOM: Did the book-lovers share your enthusiasm?

Shubha: I was initially unsure about the reading habits or trends here. To understand the pulse, I suggested 'The Kite Runner' by Khaled Hosseini, and called the members for a meeting 10 days later. I was impressed with the kind of discussion and emotions generated about the book. I later felt that we also needed a Kannada Book Club.

SOM: Did you expect Kannada readers to be interested?

Shubha: I wasn't sure but was keen. I initially requested existing members to spread the word around and ask them to attend the meeting to read any book by Triveni to kick-start the activity. The response was overwhelming and 'Kannada Oodhugara Okkoota' was born. Coincidentally, it was Rajyotsava month and author Aryamba Pattabhi was invited for an Authors Meet which encouraged our members too. Today that small spark we started has lit a thousand lamps.

SOM: How many clubs are active, how often do you meet and who is eligible to join?

Shubha: 21 book clubs are fully active as of now. Two more are in the offing, but are on hold due to pandemic. We meet once a month. During pandemic, we met online and even Author Meets were virtual. We have many colleges enlisted in Young Adults Club. Anyone who loves to read is welcome to join by contacting us through https://www.mysuruliteraturefestival.com. We did not start out to have only women in the Book Clubs. It just turned out that way.

SOM: So the Book Club is serving regular readers?

Shubha: After regular Book Clubs, I reached out to others like specially abled, orphanages, slum dwellers, Government schools and senior citizens. Different strategy is planned for each group. Like for the specially abled, we carry small books with illustrations. We give them paper and crayons and ask them to draw from books. The next time we meet, they enact the story wearing costumes. This has instilled a lot of confidence in children. At orphanages, they are introduced to practical world. For seniors, a book is chosen after discussing with them and books are read out. We also leave a few copies for them to read during their free time. For young kids, it is books with morals.

SOM: Mothers have always been fantastic story-tellers and readers. Your Book Club too has so many mothers.

Shubha: Story-telling is an offshoot of good reading. For some mothers, it is stories which are heard that get passed on. Whether grandmothers or mothers, these stories not only fascinate kids but also evinces a keen interest in them to read. We have had Author Meets with women of all ages and professions. From Sudha Murty to B. Jayashree, we have had several authors interact with our members. Each one of them is a wonderful story-teller. We hope to continue to celebrate mother's perspectives.

SOM: How much has your mother influenced you?

Shubha: My mother did what mothers did back in the day. She raised four children and provided boarding to students who lived away from their homes to study. She provided eight rooms and took care of their necessities. She educated under-privileged children under the aegis of Bhavani Shishu Vihara, until the Government started the Hiriya Prathamika Shaale. She was a part of the Fair Price Committee and ensured that everyone received rations regularly. Even today she helps a few students. Now at 70, she is involved in organic farming at Bogadi.

SOM: Your message on Mother's Day?

Shubha: Mothers are magicians of a family. So without letting yourself down ever, be a shining light to your family and surroundings. Always remember God made mothers because God could not be everywhere at the same time. Mother is an endless book where every page gives us an inspiring lesson and a comforting hug. My son has been the part of every Book Club meeting, sitting with us, playing around us, writing something and turning our book's pages.

SOM: How did the idea of a Literature Festival come up?

Shubha: The first question that popped up when I broached the idea was, does Mysuru need a festival like the ones in metropolitan cities. We launched the first festival to find out. With the support of all our Trustees and members, it was a great success. Special care is taken to have subjects on Mysuru. We have a special place reserved for self-published and local authors, where any author can walk in and leave their books for sale.

We also have 'Meet the Author' where authors talk about their books and interact with readers. We have had stalwarts like Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa, Girish Karnad, Amish Tripathi, Devdutt Patnaik, Jayanth Kaikini, Sudha Murty, Jeffrey Archer, Karan Thapar, Manu Pillai, Vikram Sampath, Javagal Srinath, P. Chidambaram, Ashwin Sanghi, Vasudhendra, Vaidehi, Yasmeen Premji, Tejaswi Surya, Adrian Levy, Vikram Kirloskar, Romulus Whitaker, Senani, Krupakar and Nawaaz Ahmed.

SOM: You have had the festival even during pandemic.

Shubha: Our first Literature Fest was held on June 4, 2017. I need to mention the immense support and encouragement I got from Author Aroon Raman. Our Trustees, friends, Book Club members, and family have been a constant support. This festival belongs to Mysuru and not just to me or a group of people. I am proud to say that every Mysurean takes pride in it, attends it and spreads the word. We conducted the fest online during pandemic and went live on YouTube and Facebook.

SOM: Online must have thrown technical challenges?

Shubha: Challenges were aplenty. A city lad Aryaman Urs, studying in 12th at Coimbatore who was at his grandma's place in Mysuru, called to ask if I would give him a chance to help technically. The first panel to go online had four women from France, Germany and USA. It was a challenge to get things right. I trusted Aryaman and the 4th Literature Fest in 2020 went off well with no technical glitch. People from all over the world tuned in.

SOM: Was there any improvement in reading habit of your Book Club members?

Shubha: Many of them say they had stopped reading for different reasons. But after joining the Club, they have revived the habit. Even those who were not very regular readers are into it now. Every Book Club meeting sees a new kind of discussion. Shy people today are confident to moderate with authors. A couple of them have started writing too and brought out their books.

Every member is given an opportunity to do their bit. And membership has increased multifold. With every meet we also develop emotional bonding and support systems. To tell you, authors from all over the world are reaching out asking me to invite them for the Mysuru Literature Festival. Even Hindi authors have started showing keen interest. Earlier, I struggled to reach out to authors but today amazingly they reach out to me.

MLC Vishwanath is a multi-faceted personality: KUWJ President

Mysuru, May 8 (RKB& DM)- Stating that BJP MLC A.H. Vishwanath is a multi-faceted personality who has served the society as an MLA, a Minister, an MP, a Journalist, a critic, a writer, an advocate etc., Bengaluru's Karnataka Union of Working Journalists (KUWJ) President Shivananda Tagadur said that Vishwanath is a veteran and matured politician who showed the Government the right way forward for allround growth.

He was speaking after inaugurating 'Adagur H. Vishwanath at 75 Sambhrama,' the 75th birthday celebration of the veteran politician, organised by Mysuru District Journalists Association (MDJA) in association with District Kannada Sahitya Parishat at Rani Bahadur Auditorium on Hunsur Road here this morning.

Pointing out that Vishwanath is a creative person, Tagadur said that the MLC is such a type of person who would never forget anyone who becomes close to him.

"Vishwanath is not a calculative politician. He is a straightforward person who tells everything as it is. He has not spared even his fellow parytmen in criticising and correcting them, whenever he finds that they have erred or done something that harmed the society," he said.

Citing an instance, Tagadur said that Vishwanath, as a Legislator when D. Devaraj Urs was the Chief Minister in the late 1970's, saw a boy washing his (Vishwanath) car that was parked in Vidhana Soudha premises. A couple of days later, Vishwanath out of curiosity, asked the boy who he was and why he was doing the car washing job. The boy said that he was the son of a former MLA and he was doing the job to earn some money, which moved Vishwanath so much that he immediately took up the matter with Urs.

"Following discussion with Vishwanath and other senior Legislators and members of his Cabinet, the then CM Urs announced pension scheme for Karnataka Legislators for the first time. As such the Legislators of today should ever be indebted to Vishwanath for the pension benefits that they are getting now", Tagadur said adding that perhaps Vishwanath is the only Legislator so far who went in a procession to the Congress Office to submit his resignation from the party.

Observing that Vishwanath very much deserved a Cabinet berth in the H.D. Kumaraswamy headed JD(S)-Congress coalition Government, Tagadur opined that the JD(S) top brass probably kept him out of the Ministry as the party leaders believed that they cannot rule over him.

Referring to the much talked about Viswanath's latest political book 'Bombay Days' which is said to contain facts and the circumstances that catapulted the defection of Legislators from the Congress and JD(S) to the BJP in 2019, which ultimately led to the collapse of the coalition Government, Tagadur said that everyone, especially journalists, are eagerly awaiting its release.

Speaking his mind on the occasion of his 75th birthday celebration, MLC A.H. Vishwanath recalled his journey from being an advocate in K.R. Nagar to becoming a Minister and MP.

Going back to his early days, Vishwanath recalled the circumstances that led to the fall of the then Veerendra Patil Government in 1970 due to student movement and unrest in University of Mysore, where he was studying then.

Maintaining that he has grown politically, intellectually and individually along with the media in the past 50 years of his public service, Vishwanath said that the media has grown by leaps and bounds over the years and he wants to know where it stands now, especially at a time when the world is facing turbulent times.

Recalling that Gundu Rao as the Chief Minister in the early 1980's had said that Journalists should be thrown to the Arabian Sea, the MLC said that he learnt to conduct press meet and reply to questions posed by presspersons, from senior journalists of his time. Noting that tall leaders such as Devaraj Urs and B. Basavalingappa had thought him on how to connect with the people and keep in touch with the masses, Vishwanath said that he has never forgotten the lessons taught to him by his political mentors.

Stating that Nandan, a friend of his from Raichur had presented him an ambulance for personal use, Vishwanath said that he in turn donated the ambulance to K.R. Nagar's famed Bone healer Dr. Mehaboob Khan.

Contending that he leant a lot from the media on how to speak in public platforms, Vishwanath announced that he would be donating Rs.75,000 to the 'Suraksha Nidhi' set up for the welfare of Journalists, marking his 75th birthday. He also declared that he would donate Rs.10 lakh out of his Legislator's fund, for the construction of MDJA's new building to come up in city.

Earlier, senior journalist T. Gururaj delivered the keynote address.

MDJA President S.T. Ravikumar presided. Mysuru District Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Maddikere Gopal, MDJA Secretary M. Subramanya, senior Journalists Ravindra Reshme, D. Umapathi, B.M. Hanif, Hunasawadi Rajan, K. Shivakumar and a host of other personalities were present.

The foundation itself will be 10 ft. and the Memorial per-se will be 33 ft. The black granite stone was procured from a quarry in Chamarajanagar that is owned by H.M. Puttamadaiah. He donated the stones free of cost and the estimated value of the stones is over Rs. 1 crore.

The granite stones were cut and shaped at SVV Granites in Chamarajanagar. Even this was done free of cost by factory owner A. Srinath. Otherwise cutting, shaping and transport would cost over Rs. 50 lakh.

The Memorial in the form of a Square will have the elements of the city's heritage by using Hassan's green stone. The main entrance depicting the three symbols of the armed forces combined will be constructed. The remaining three sides will have the Army, Air Force and Navy insignia separately and will display the army tanks, fighting planes, Navy ships, guns and other weapons used by the armed forces.

It may be mentioned here that former Assistant Commissioner (AC) of Mysuru C.L. Ananda had taken up the cause of the Memorial and had completed the necessary process and through the Mysuru District Administration had sent the proposal to the State Government.

Ananda, who has served in the Army for 15 years, convinced the quarry owner to donate the granite stones as a mark of respect to the sacrifices made by Defence forces. It was Mandetira N. Subramani of VeKare Ex-Servicemen Trust who had submitted a proposal to the State Government and the Mysuru District Administration in the year 2000 to build a War Memorial in Mysuru.

The only place where expansion can be taken up is the western part opposite the CFTRI gate near the Railway Museum. "The Station has reached its saturation point and there is a desperate need to expand. The Naganahalli Satellite Terminal project is stuck for more than three years now and there is a huge cost escalation in the originally planned Rs. 789 crore project. There is a plan or thought to demolish the staff quarters to make space for capacity building and expansion," Divisional Railway Manager (DRM) Rahul Agarwal told Star of Mysore.

Almost all the residential quarters are over 95 years old and anyway they have to be demolished. "We are thinking of relocating the 350 families to other places where vertical residential complexes like the group housing project can be constructed. Land will not be an issue here as the Railways own many parcels of land in Mysuru.

Detailed Project Report

The SWR authorities have floated a Request For Proposal (RFP) to provide architectural and technical consultancy for a feasibility study. After the study, a Detailed Project Report (DPR) will be prepared for integrated redevelopment of the Railway Station and also to relocate the staff from the old quarters.

"All this is still in the planning state and the project has to gain approval from the Railway Board that will have a final say. The relocation of staff quarters just needs about 50 acres but if the existing quarters near the Railway Station are demolished, we will get over 165 acres," the DRM added.

It may be recalled here that the SWR has taken up the upgradation of Belagola Railway Station, on the outskirts of the city in the Mysuru-Hassan-Arasikere Section with an estimated cost of Rs. 20 crore. Additional lines and a second platform are being constructed along with two stabling lines.

At present, the Belagola Railway Station has three stabling lines and two more will come up taking the total to five while the City Railway Station has six stabling lines.

Low yield, relentless rain make mangoes dearer

Push-cart vendors beckon buyers by waving hands on Mysuru-Hunsur Highway

Varieties of mangoes arranged in an attractive manner on Hunsur Road near Nagavala to attract commuters.

Hunsur, May 8 (Raghu & BCT)- Waiting for buyers along the Mysuru-Hunsur Highway has become a routine affair for mango farmers from Nagavala and its surrounding villages lately.

The season has come after two years of COVID and this year, the sales are marred by low yield. Though the quality of the fruit and its aroma and sweetness are unmatched, there is not enough production as most of the flowers have fallen due to unseasonal rains in the flowering season.

Prices are naturally high and the sales are not up to the mark when compared to the pre-pandemic times. Over 20 to 30 push-carts with plastic sheets as shade or under the trees dot the Highway as soon as one crosses Mysuru. The carts extend to a two-kilometre stretch from Yelwal to Ankanahalli. Mangoes are supplied to carts by growers and they are marketed either by the family members or relatives. Fruits arrive fresh every day or once in two days from Nagavala, Benkipura, Halebeedu, Bilikere, Bettadabeedu, Beerihundi and Hullahalli.

ENTICING ARRANGEMENT

Ripe and semi-ripe mangoes are arranged like pyramids on the push-carts to grab the attention of hundreds of vehicles that pass on the road. As soon as a vehicle stops, vendors crowd them with a handful of mangoes urging the occupants of the vehicle to have a look at their fruits. The vendors claim that the fruits are delicious and chemical-free.

They wave and bend before at the corners of their push-carts, enticing the travellers. While many of them are found on both sides of the road, a thick concentration of carts can be seen near the road humps. It is easy to stop a slowed down vehicle thanks to the road hump. Even the commuters readily oblige and are spoilt for choice.

According to the vendors, prolonged rain last year that increased moisture in the soil resulted in delayed flowering and also resulted in crop damage as flowers fell in large quantities. "Two years COVID hit us and no one was ready to purchase fruits from us as people feared the spread of the virus. This year, the production is only 30 percent and as such, the prices are high," said Sunil, a vendor.

LOW YIELD HITS BUSINESS

Generally, the mango trees that are grown in Nagavala belt are healthy and a medium size tree yields 100 kgs of fruit every year. "This year, the yield is only three to four kgs. In the pre-pandemic season, we used to net an income of Rs. 6,000 to Rs. 7,000 per day and the profits would be counted after paying the grower, sellers and other expenses like food. This year, the income has come down to Rs. 3,000 to Rs. 4,000," said Chandu, another vendor who sits next to his cart from 7 am to 7 pm.

Weekdays are dull and rain acts as a killjoy most of the evenings. However, a line of vehicles are usually seen near all the carts during weekends. Most commuters on a jolly trip to Kodagu, K.R. Nagar and Hassan stop by and purchase fruits to eat them on their way. Even professionals returning to Kodagu after a weeklong work too buy fruits to their houses.

"Many people believe that now mangoes are tasteless and rains have to completely stop for the fruits to accumulate sweetness. So many do not stop near our carts now as they are waiting for the rains to cease," said Chandu who has been doing this business for the last seven years.

They sell various types of mangoes like Sindhura, Malgoba, Raspuri, Mallika and Alphonso. While prices of all the varieties range from Rs. 150 to Rs. 180 or Rs. 220 per kg, Alphonso, which weighs just 3 to 4 fruits per kilogram, sells for a minimum price of Rs. 280 to Rs. 300.

Most of the customers ask for Raspuri and Badami. The fruits that are over-ripe and blackened are not discarded but are fed to livestock.

Role of Yejamanaru in mango trade

Siddhanayaka, one of the 'Yajamanaru' who has decades of experience in mango trade.

Chandu's uncle Lokesh is in the trade from 27 years and the tradition has been passed on by Siddhanayaka, Chandu's grandfather. People like Siddhanayaka who are called 'Yejamanaru' in this belt are highly respected for their business acumen. They assist the vendors right from procuring mangoes, ripening them, carrying it to the individual carts and also price fixing. Their decision is final in many aspects and the younger lot obeys meekly.

The CID sleuths did not rule out a flourishing racket of ivory trade and said that a detailed investigation will be carried out. Normally plain tusks are traded and they get caught. "But here, a carved ivory has been seized and we have to gather information from the accused regarding the supply chain and how it reached Madikeri," a source told Star of Mysore.

The ivory will be sent for tests to ascertain its origin. According to Forest Department officials, the transaction of elephant tusks has been banned internationally as per CITES treaty.

CITES stands for Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of wild fauna and flora. In total, 175 countries of the world are its members that bans trade of endangered species such as tigers, lions and their body parts. India became member of the treaty in the year 1976.

A licence is required for possession of animal trophies including tusks. Not many people are aware of the existing laws and if someone is found with trophies without a valid licence of possession, they can be punished under Wildlife Prevention Act and also IPC. Tusks are one such item, an officer said.

Madikeri CID Forest Cell Sub-Inspector C.U. Savi led the raid team while staff Shekar, Rajesh, Raghavendra, Yogesh, Mohan, Swamy and Manjunath took part.

Groom brings his father 'alive' for wedding

Nanjangud, May 8 (SSM)- The bride and groom are the main attraction at any wedding. However, here is a wedding which took place in Nanjangud taluk where all the eyes were on the groom's father at the wedding.

Groom Dr. Yathish, a MD student at JSS Ayurveda College, Mysuru, had created the replica of his father Ramesh, of Ajjampur in Kadur taluk of Chikkamagalur district, who had passed away last year due to COVID-19.

Dr. Yathish, as an honour and tribute, got made a life-like wax statue of his deceased father. The wax statue of Ramesh was placed next to the groom's mother throughout the wedding vows which had all the eyes of the invited guests.

Dr. Yathish's wedding is fixed with one Dr. Apoorva, a resident of Melkundi village in Nanjangud taluk which was held at Santhana Ganapathi Kalyana Mantapa in the taluk this morning.

Two arrested for trying to sell tiger claws

Madikeri, May 8 (KS)- The Madikeri CID Police of the Forest unit have arrested two while they were trying to sell tiger claws and have recovered four tiger claws from them.

The arrested are Kumar and Vinu of Gundlupet. The accused on May 6 were trying to sell the tiger claws near the bus stand, close to Madikeri-Mysuru National Highway Chain Gate during which the Police raided the spot and arrested them.

CID Police Forest Unit's Additional IGP K.V. Sharathchandra and Madikeri CID Police Forest Unit In-charge Superintendent N.T. Srinivas Reddy guided Madikeri CID Police Forest Mobile Squad Sub-Inspector C.U. Savi and staff Shekar, Rajesh, Raghavendra, Yogesh, Mohan, Swamy and Manjunath in the nabbing and recovery operation.

Unidentified body found

Nanjangud, May 8 (KS)- Nanjangud Town Police have found a body of an unidentified man which was floating in River Kapila, near Hadinaaru Kaalu Mantapa and have shifted the body to the mortuary besides registering a case.

The deceased is aged between 50 and 55 years, 5.5 ft. tall, normal built, oily red complexioned, oval faced, sports black beard and moustache, has a yellow thread tied around his left elbow, has mark of an old wound on his left knee and was wearing a brown colour jeans.

The kith and kin of the deceased, if any, may contact Nanjangud Town Police Station on Ph: 08221-228383 or call the District Police Control Room on Ph: 0821-2444800, according to a press release.

Man kills wife for money

Nanjangud, May 8 (Sudarshan & KS)- A man, who used to pester his wife for money, allegedly killed her by suffocating her to death for refusing to give money to him.

The incident took place at Rampura village in the taluk on May 6 night and the deceased has been identified as Deviramma (45) of Rampura village.

The accused is Venkatesh, who has been taken into custody by the Police.

Deviramma, daughter of Kalaiah of Rampura, had given his daughter in marriage to Venkatesh of Hampapura and the couple have two kids. It is learnt that Venkatesh, who used to fight frequently with his wife for money, had left his wife and children a few years back and was residing in Hampapura, H.D. Kote taluk.

Venkatesh, who came back to Rampura village recently, began to reside with his wife and children, but again began to pester his wife for money, which used to lead to fights between him and his wife.

On May 6 night, Venkatesh again picked up a fight with his wife and Manu, son of Venkatesh and Deviramma, calmed his father and left for work. When he came back from work the next day morning, he found his mother dead. The face of Deviramma bore wounds and there was a mark around her neck, which looked like she was strangled with a saree, following which Manu lodged a complaint with Hullahalli Police, accusing his father of killing his mother Deviramma.

Dy.SP Govindaraju, Circle Inspector Lakshmikanth Talawar, Hullahalli Sub-Inspector Mahesh Kumar and staff visited the spot and shifted the body to MMC&RI mortuary in Mysuru for post-mortem. The body was handed over to the family members after post-mortem was conducted.

After allegedly murdering his wife, Venkatesh had gone absconding and Crime Division Sub-Inspector Nanjunda Raje Urs and staff, who conducted an operation, traced him and took him into custody. Hullahalli Police, who have registered a case, are investigating.
